Julia Day started Miss Biscuit in 2012 having become hooked on decorating cookies as a hobby.

She started her business from home and as her social media profile grew, she began running royal icing decorating classes.

6 years later, she has stores in Melbourne and Sydney and has taught royal icing classes in most Australian states and in many cities around the world including Dubai, Mumbai, London and NYC.

She teaches thousands of beginner decorators every year in her two teaching studios and her stores are known for their huge cookie cutter and stencil displays.
